National Western Stock Show Announces NEW Horseman's Challenge

Denver, CO. – The National Western Stock Show (NWSS) is pleased to announce the creation of the National Western Horseman's Challenge, a new event which will provide a challenging, educational and entertaining opportunity for local and national equestrians to be involved in the NWSS within a growing and evolving discipline. Horse and rider teams will be faced with various obstacles and tasks testing their confidence in each other.

Taking place January 8-10, 2018 in the Denver Coliseum, the National Western Horseman's Challenge will offer schooling time followed by competition phases including individual timed practice rounds, a team competition and a 100% payback individual speed challenge. Obstacles and tasks will vary to accommodate all levels and ages of riders and horses.

More event information and entry reservations are available at www.NationalWestern.com under Horse Exhibitors. Space is limited and reservations are due by Friday, December 29, 2017.

Grounds admission and event tickets for the 2018 National Western Stock Show are on sale now at nationalwestern.com and all Colorado King Soopers locations. For ticket, sponsor, VIP or vendor information, call (303) 297-1166 or visit www.NationalWestern.com.

About the National Western Stock Show

Approaching the 112th year, the National Western Stock Show is a 501(c) (3) charitable organization that provides college and graduate level scholarships in agriculture and medicine for practice in rural areas. It is also our mission to serve producers and consumers throughout the world by being the premier Stock Show, Rodeo, Horse Show and center for year-round events. The 16-day show also serves as an entertainment arena, hosting one of the world's richest regular season professional rodeos, largest horse show and Colorado's largest western trade show.
